

Alumni

Alumni are the only stake holders who can be nourished and developed to provide mutual benefits to the students studying in the university. We remain invested in the success of our alumni, who have been our cherished assets and bring tremendous benefits to the institution and the future leaders. It can then become one of the most important resources for university offering some of the following benefits:-

- Alumni bring the wealth of knowledge from the world of practice, which can enhance any programme at a university. Their insights can be crucial in developing curriculum that is relevant to current industry trends.
- A university's alumni pool is its social capital in many ways as they enhance their reputation. When alumni take their rightful place in the industry or become entrepreneurs, they take the institution's brand far and wide.
- Alumni can help the current student community at the university through talks, lectures, personal contact and mentorships.
- Alumni also pave the way for current students into organizations for placements.
